

Falling in Love with Nature for kids, parents, & elders

Sponsored by “Elwell Eden” with a Grant from NASA*

Through the Finger Lakes Connected Learning Ecosystems/RMSC Cumming Nature Center

Do you wish kids would play outside more often?

Do your kids/grandkids spend too much time online and social media?

I’m Victoria Zelin-Cloud and I would love to show you how to engage kids in nature, learning skills and knowledge they typically don’t get at school.

Four years ago, my husband Jonathan and I turned our lawn into what we call “Elwell Eden.” We planted a “food forest,” as well as vegetable and pollinator gardens. People of all ages find it surprising, stimulating, beautiful and calming.

We invite you and your family members to join us at 41 Elwell Drive on one of the following days/times. We’ll have some fun activities and share some of the lessons we learned and hope it inspires you and your family to create something special at your home, allowing kids to develop a relationship with nature that will sustain them for a lifetime.

Healthy snacks and drinks will be provided during a mid-session break.

Sign up for a free session using the QR code, or go to PossibleRochester.org/events

October 17, Saturday, 10 am - 1 pm

October 18, Sunday, 1 - 4 pm

October 24, Saturday, 1 - 4 pm

October 25, Sunday, 1 - 4 pm

Register online or text, call or email me with your name and the best time to talk about your questions and scheduling. Victoria 908-507-3150 or vzelin@possiblerochester.org

“Elwell Eden” is located at 41 Elwell
Drive, Brighton, NY

*NASA, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, develops and operates satellites and shares information from them with educators, helping students explore science, technology, engineering and math.